Faster Remedies on Drainage Are Urged

An expanded hillside drainage program in the Madison-St. Clair County area that will cost approximately $10 million will be proposed for approval by the U. S. Congress, John Guillo, director of the Illinois Division of Waterways, told a meeting of the Madison County Citizens Environmental Council in Edwardsville Thursday night.

Guillo said an appeal for the enlarged program will be presented in late May or early June with a request for federal assistance because the state and local agencies have little money available for such projects. The state, for example, has only $3 million per year for drainage programs, he said.

Approximately 35 persons attended. Most of them expressed concern over drainage problems that might result from development of a 72-acre residential-recreation-commercial area between Illinois Routes 111 and 157 in Chouteau and Edwardsville townships.

Walter Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau township, said the county board will consider all recommendations or objections before it acts on rezoning requests in the April board meeting. Sparks said he will listen to recommendations of the zoning board of appeals.

Guillo said more than half of the drainage problem in the area could be eliminated if drainage ditches and pumps were kept in proper working order.

Emphasis was placed on faster progress in meeting drainage needs. Guillo said, "There's been a focus in Madison and St. Clair Counties about drainage and it's been going on a long time."

"The East Side Levee and Sanitary District has not done its job in the last few years," he said, also accusing the two county boards of neglecting drainage problems.

Thursday's discussion was sparked by some residents' concern about the proposed residential project, which is to include many mobile homes.

More opposition to mobile home development in Chouteau Township and the Granite City school district was voiced at a meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lillian Delp. A group of residents mapped opposition to the project and chose as a committee a name "Concerned Chouteau Citizens."

The Tri-City Ministerial Alliance's annual Good Friday services at noon Friday will include a sermon by the Rev. Dr. James Anthis of Central Christian Church and special music during the one-hour service by the Granite City High School Advanced Mixed Chorus. Location is Weddington United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Fate of the proposed 1972 Mississippi River Festival outdoor concert series at SIU-SW remains in doubt, with state and other fund allocations not yet adequate to meet the costs.

A "war" on the Madison County Democratic "machine" was declared Friday by Lloyd Bentley, Republican candidate for the office of clerk of the circuit court. Using an Indian war dance around the County Courthouse in Edwardsville, he assailed "old-time cronyism and scandalous politics" and offered an "enlightened and straightforward approach" under the Indian name of "straight arrow."

The Regional Forum of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council was named the "best single example of regional citizens participation in the country" in a statement by Metropolitan Fair, an urban affairs foundation located in Detroit, which develops research and action on metropolitan areas.

Guest Is Killed at Wedding Reception

MURDER SCENE where Joseph C. Pinero, 18, of 911 Greenwood St., Madison, was shot fatally in a disturbance outside Buzz's 12th Street Tavern, 1226 Madison Ave., Madison, at 6:20 p.m. yesterday. The proprietor of the tavern, Clarence Tom York Jr., is charged with murder in connection with the shooting.

One Madison man is dead and another is charged with murder following a disturbance and shooting at a wedding reception at Buzz's 12th Street Tavern, 1226 Madison Ave., Madison, at 6:20 p.m. Sunday.

Dead is Joseph C. Pinero, 18, of 911 Greenwood St., Madison, a veteran who had been discharged to active reserve duty 22 days ago after having served eight months with the 101st Airborne Division in Vietnam. His rank was specialist-four.

Charged with murder at 9:30 a.m. today was Clarence Tom York Jr., 38, proprietor of the tavern. York resides at the tavern.

Police said Mr. Pinero died of a bullet wound near his left ear. He also suffered lacerations to his left eyelid, right forehead and scalp. Evidence indicated Mr. Pinero had been struck on the left side of his head with the gun before it was discharged.

The shooting allegedly took place in the parking lot at the rear of the tavern where Mr. Pinero was found, lying face down beside his car.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was pronounced dead upon arrival at 6:35 p.m. yesterday.

Pinero was a guest at the reception for Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Robinson Jr., following their wedding. The bride, Deborah York, is York's daughter, police said.

Madison police received a telephone call informing them that a man had been shot. Madison police were dispatched and assistance was requested from Venice police.

A large crowd had gathered around the body when police arrived, officers said. Nine local persons, seven men and two women, were taken to the Madison police station as material witnesses and were released.

Mr. Pinero was born in Granite City and had been a lifelong resident of the Quad-Cities. He attended Madison High School until 1970, when he entered the U. S. Army.

He resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pinero Jr. Surviving besides his parents are two brothers, Robert and David Pinero, and three sisters, Misses Mary, Janey and

JOSEPH C. PINERO

Sherry Pinero, all at home, and his grandparents, Mrs. George (Josephine) Free of Madison, Luther Ray of Madison and Mrs. Mary Ebaning of Waipahu, Hawaii.

Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Absentee Voting Open At Clerk's Office

Mailed requests for absentee ballots for the April 4 County Board Election must be received in the office of the county clerk at 5 p.m. Thursday, County Clerk Eulalia Hotz, said today.

Those planning to cast absentee ballots, in person may vote at the clerk's office during office hours today through Thursday, and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday. The courthouse will be closed Good Friday, she said.

Two ballots will be used for the election, she reported, a white ballot for county board members and a green ballot on the question of whether a building should be constructed to house the county's voting machines. Paper ballots must be used as the voting machines must, by law, be impounded 30 days after the April 21 primary election, she explained.

Paper ballots will be delivered to precincts in the Quad-City area Tuesday and Thursday, Miss Hotz reported.

Prepare Plans for New Police Station

Preliminary planning and engineering work for construction of a new Granite City police station has been initiated by a St. Louis firm under an agreement negotiated by Mayor Donald Partney, it was reported today.

The proposed police station, which would house a central radio control unit and offices of the Granite City Civil Defense organization, would be located adjacent to the No. 1 fire station at 23rd and Iowa streets, the mayor said.

The preliminary plans are being developed by the firm of Enderling & Associates of St. Louis which has agreed to do the work without cost to the city unless the planning work results in allocation of a federal grant, Mayor Partney expected.

Wayne Enderling of the St. Louis firm has assured the city that if no grant is made by federal authorities for construction of the police station, "then the city will not have to pay anything for the preliminary planning and the work of filing the grant applications," the mayor said.

Meets With Chief

Cost estimates and the size of the proposed building are not available pending studies of the needs of the Granite City police department, it was reported. Enderling met several times with Chief of Police Ronald Veizer to obtain views on the facilities that should be contained in the structure.

Mayor Partney said that federal grants up to 70% of the total cost are available under some programs for law enforcement development.

"In addition, I am sure that we could obtain additional federal money in grants for the Civil Defense organization if the building were designed to house Civil Defense offices," the mayor said.

Mayor Partney said planning for the building will incorporate all of the most modern facilities available for police department operation, including a shooting range.

Pontoon Awards Contract, Buys Police Radar Unit

A contract to repair electrical relays in the Quiet Valley Lagoon pumps in Pontoon Beach was awarded to Bud Marzke, a former village police department dispatcher, despite objections by some trustees, at the Pontoon Beach village board meeting Thursday night.

Marlette's bid of $90 was accepted over another bid of $108 by Rite Electric Co. Among those objecting were Trustees Loren Madison, who voted not to accept the bid, and Dr. Dean Rochester who abstained from voting. The bid was awarded on the vote of Trustees Fred Reecer and Carl Hackney.

Those objecting declined to comment on their reasons.

The board also agreed to purchase a police Vascor radar unit from Wise Communications, Inc. of Granite City for $1,016 if half of the cost will be reimbursed by the state. Madison said he would apply for a police grant for two Vascor units and would purchase one now if the grant is approved.

The others could be purchased at a later date, he said.

"Reecer Votes No" Reecer was the only trustee to vote against the purchase.

Madison also proposed the village purchase three police radio units for $1,382, or $23 per month for 60 months. He said the police department presently is renting units at $90 per month.

Dr. Rochester objected, noting that a purchase of that extent required competitive bidding. He moved the board advertise for bids. The motion passed.

Reecer proposed the village hire Norman Kinder, a Granite City attorney, as the village attorney, filling a vacancy created when William Schooley resigned.

Rochester requested several other attorneys be contacted and a comparison of fees be made before action is taken to hire an attorney. Reecer withdrew his motion and agreed to meet with other local attorneys.

Otto Kreher, board president, named two new trustee committees and at the request of the committee chairmen, agreed to allow the chairmen to name village residents to serve with the trustees.

Named to the clean-up committee were Reecer, chairman, Madison and Trustee Don McReecer.

Annual Easter Egg Hunt Saturday at Park Rink

Egg hunting time is almost here and today the Granite City Park District announced its annual Easter Saturday egg hunt and will be staged amid mounds of straw inside the Wilson Park rink pavilion.

Only pre-school through first grade youngsters will be eligible to seek 3,000 foil-wrapped eggs in this year's hunt. Park Supt. Harold Brown said. In previous years, children up to the third grade level were encouraged to take part.

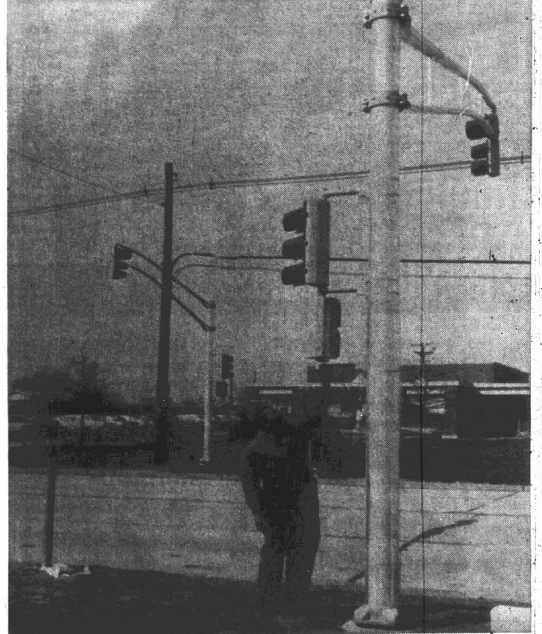

The youthful hunters must be residents of the Granite City Park District. Each child must provide his own basket or container in which to gather the eggs.

First grade pupils will start their hunt at 9 a.m. Saturday; youngsters in kindergarten at 10:30 a.m. and pre-schoolers (four years and under) at 1 p.m.

Duplicate prizes (large chocolate Easter bunnies) will be awarded in each age group to the boy and girl gathering the most eggs.

Also, the youngster collecting the greatest number of eggs in each age category will receive a chocolate rabbit. Large "heavenly hams" eggs will be presented to children locating the prized "golden eggs."

Walker-Ogilvie Governor Race May Be Close But Odds Have Tipped In Favor of Incumbent

BY KEN WATSON
Copley News Service
Springfield—There was great consternation.

One could almost feel the Statehouse dome jiggle and tremble.

In all the long history of Illinois politics, there had never been anything like it.

On Election Day morning, about everyone in the Illinois Capitol was sure of at least two things: The Daley machine was still invincible. And Paul Simon couldn't be beat.

Twenty-four hours later, all this was history.

What happened? Why was walking Dan Walker of Deerfield suddenly the Democratic candidate for governor and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon of Troy abruptly in the line of the also-rans?

It will puzzle Illinois politicians for many months to come.

One can commend Simon for an exceptionally high standard of political morality, but to Capitol eyes it was far too high a price to pay for the probable ending of a glittering political career.

Like Barry Goldwater, Simon has learned the hard way that 110% honesty is not the best policy in politics.

There were contributing factors in the Walker upset. His victory probably reflected pent-up voter disgust with widespread corruption in Illinois politics so vividly dramatized in the Paul Powell shoebox affair.

Walker's was a new clean face at the right time.

Ironically, it was Simon—who had advanced up the political ladder as a fighter against the traditional political bosses—who met his political doom in the embrace of the last and greatest boss of them all,

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The Daley blessing so avidly by Simon turned out in the end to be a political curse.

The big upsurge in the Cook County state's attorney's race, which culminated in a Daley debacle, no doubt hurt Simon, too.

Another possible factor in his defeat was the cross-over of many normally Republican voters into the Democratic primary, especially in Cook County.

The first 1821-year-old vote was no help to Walker.

The Daley machine may come back to win a few more elections. But its fate has been sealed.

An era ended with the Walker triumph. There may still be a long night at the bedside of Dick Daley who has had his last hurrah.

Perhaps the biggest winner of all on Primary Election Day was Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie. Republicans gave him a strong vote of confidence. His outlook for re-election has brightened immensely.

Few people at the Statehouse, even Republicans, held much hope that Ogilvie could ever have beaten Simon. But now he starts about even with Walker. It's going to be a horse race.

The overall Democratic outlook has undoubtedly dimmed with the Walker victory. He will be a pronounced liberal heading a state slate at a time when there appears to be a strong conservative tide running across the national political spectrum.

Another byproduct of the balancing is that newsmen will now believe Adlai Stevenson when he says he is not a candidate for vice-president.

Illinois remains a pivotal state in the Presidential election, but the organization is now viewed as unable to guarantee that the Democrats will carry the state regardless of whether an Illinoisian is on the national ticket.

Miss Laura McCommis Marries Danny Nollman

Miss Laura McCommis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd D. McCommis, 2919 Benton St., and Danny R. Nollman, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nollman, 4008 South Park Drive, Belleville, exchanged wedding vows March 17 at the First United Presbyterian Church in Granite City.

The Rev. Dr. David B. Maxton performed the double ring candlelight ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. Arrangements of white gladioli, "mums and carnations decorated the altar. Miss Paula Danco and Miss Janis Etheridge lighted tapers in the aisle candleabra. Kenneth MacClatchey presided at the organ for Mrs. John McCabe Moore, soloist, who sang "The Greatest of These is Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white silk organza over taffeta. A high Victorian neckline accented the bodice which was fitted with bell shaped sleeves formed of fabric ruffles. Venice lace traced the neckline, encircled the natural waistline and trimmed the bodice.

The semi-controlled skirt swept into a graceful court train edged with matching lace. A headpiece of lace daisies secured an elbow-length veil of silk illusion and the bridal bouquet was made up of white daisies and ivy.

Miss Janet Zamminer, maid of honor, was attired in an Empire style gown of light green flowered voile with short flared sleeves.

The bridesmaids, Miss Nancy McCommis and Miss Becky McCommis, both wore identical gowns of yellow flowered voile. Each wore matching bow headpieces and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Jerry Nollman served his brother as best man. Miss Dayton and George Freeman were groomsmen and Ken Besse and Myron Thompson seated the guests.

A reception was given immediately following the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

Mrs. McCommis, mother of the bride, selected a blue and white knit dress for her daughter's wedding.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Nollman, appeared in a pink frock, princess style, with long sleeves.

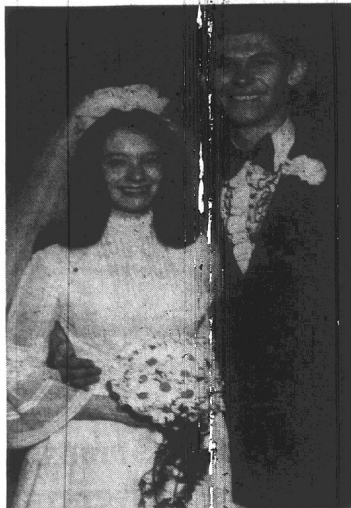

The former Miss McCommis is employed part-time in the audio-visual department at SIU-SW, where she is a senior student majoring in social education.

Mr. Nollman is a graduate of Belleville West High School and SIU-SW. He presently is employed as a teacher at Belleville West.

After a wedding trip, the newly married couple returned to Belleville to make their home.

OVERSEAS DELIVERY AVAILABLE

Instead of a mechanic telling you what's wrong with your car, now your car can tell you.

The Volkswagen Beetle is the most intelligent automobile on the road today.

After all, what other car can tell you how it feels, in plain English? You see, running throughout every 1972 VW is a network of sensors reporting the condition of key points in the car to an central socket.

(The Beetle, in effect, is now wired like a space capsule.) This fall, you'll be able to drive it into an authorized Volkswagen Dealership and something extraordinary will happen:

Your car will be plugged into a computer and begin speaking to you. Sixty vital service points will be checked and the results will be printed out for you to read.

Things like your front wheel alignment, engine cylinder compression and electrical system will all be checked without human error.

Checks that are normally made in minutes will take seconds. And when all sixty are completed, the print-out sheet is yours to keep.

So now you have two choices: A mechanic telling you what he thinks is wrong with your car.

Or your car telling you for sure.

Warriors Split Four Games, Set Today at Wood River

The Granite City High School baseball Warriors are now 3-2 after splitting four games played since Thursday.

The Warriors went to Madison on Thursday and came back winners of a 2-0 game, only to be shut out at Roxana 3-0 on Friday and splitting a doubleheader on Saturday at Peoria winning the first game 3-0 and dropping the second 2-0.

Warrior bats boomed in Madison as the team scored 10 runs in the first inning, 12 in the second and four in the fourth. The 10-run rule ended the game after five innings.

Unfortunately the bats quit on Friday as the Warriors only tagged three hits, and Warrior Jack Scarborough hit two of the three.

Jim Burns was on the mound for the Warriors and is charged with the Roxana loss.

At Peoria Saturday, Warrior pitcher John Stanton hurled a one-hitter, striking out 11 and giving up five free tickets to the first. The only hit Stanton gave up was a bunt in the fifth inning.

The Warriors, however, were still not hitting. Jeff Worthen played his first game at first and garnered two doubles in three times at bat. Scoring for GCHS were Scarborough, Worthen and Tim Leyer.

The first game of the twin bill Saturday at Peoria ended in a shutout as Peoria came back in the second game with two runs, five hits and one error; and the Warriors were 0-3-0.

The only Warrior hits were a double by Scarborough, and singles by Worthen and Jerry Duncan.

Peoria's two runs came in the fifth inning on a single, double and a single, which knocked losing pitcher Joe Wallace out of the box. Vic Reznack came in as a relief and finished the game.

"We are off to another slow start this season," Coach Garbe said. "Our hitting is just not there and it should be with our returning lettermen. Our defense and our pitching is good, but we need to hit the ball to win games. In our five games our pitchers have only allowed 10 hits, and that's good."

Weather permitting, the Warriors are scheduled to travel for a 4 p.m. game today at Wood River.

The Thursday game at Alton will start at 2:30 p.m. instead of the usual 4 p.m. due to school being out for the Easter holidays.

Miss Reisinger also earned a fifth-place ribbon in the 200-yard medley relay. All events in which she competed were in the 13-14 age group.

The local girl was one of five Granite City swimmers competing under the East St. Louis YMCA colors, who won medals and ribbons in the state championship meet at George Williams College in Downers Grove.

Capturing a second place medal in the 11-12 age division was Judy Reisinger, a younger sister of Karen She earned second place in the 10-yard individual medley and a sixth-place award in the 10-yard freestyle.

A Janet Becherer, 9-10, won a third-place medal in the 100-yard freestyle and a fourth place in the 50-yard butterfly.

On Sunday, the Boys' YMCA State Championship Meet was staged at the same college pool.

Local youths winning medals were Mark W. Buegner, who earned a second-place award in the 100-yard breaststroke, 13-14 age group; and David Joly, 9-10, who captured a third-place medal in the 200-yard freestyle relay.

The only top six competitors in YMCA swim programs throughout the state competed in the meet finals.

Communities from each section of Illinois were represented by youthful swimmers who met established, qualifying times or had achieved first place victories in district meets.

Robbers to Play With Wichita

James Robbers, a 6-2, 205-pound full back, has been labeled a "comer" for the Wichita State University Shocker freshman team as the Granite City senior has signed to attend WSU next fall.

A solid student with a high "B" average, Robbers intends to major in business at WSU in addition to his football. As a fullback this past season, he gained over 4.6 yards a carry and was a three-year letterman.

"We feel James has the size and the weight to be a potentially fine athlete for the Shockers," head coach Bob Seaman said. "He has fair speed and with size, he could play a number of positions for us. He was a track man as well and is a well-conditioned athlete. We feel he'll play some for us this season."

Robbers helped his team to a 5-2 record this past season, and was instrumental in his team's 8-1 and 5-3 marks the previous two seasons. His coach, Wayne Williams, gives him his seal of approval as a "fine athlete."

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Robbers of Granite City.

Wilson Splits All-Star Meet

Doug Wilson, Granite City High School's 132-pound All-Star varsity wrestler, was among 12 Illinois high school wrestlers who competed against the Pennsylvania State All-Star wrestling squad at California State College in Pennsylvania Saturday.

The Pennsylvania squad collected eight match victories, the Illinois team had four and there was one draw during the competition.

Wilson wrestled two matches in the event due to the absence of the 132-pound Illinois state champion Brad Smith.

In his first round, Wilson met Dan Santoro of San Con Valley, Pa., the state champion, and was beaten on a reversal in the last 10 seconds. The final score was 6-4.

The Granite City matman won the second round, downing Dan Levine of Waynesburg, Pa., the state third-place finisher, in a 7-3 match. The Illinois All-Star team was picked by Elias George, national chairman of the high school wrestling division of the Amateur Athletic Union. A total of 25 wrestlers competed in the event.

Trojans Win 3-2, End Losing Streak

The Madison High School baseball Trojans ended a 33-game losing streak Friday when they beat Triad 3-2 on the Madison diamond.

Two seasons ago the Trojans were 0-15 and last year they were 0-17. It looked bad for Madison this year as they lost their season opener at home to Granite City's Warriors 26-0 on Thursday.

Trojan third baseman Ron Jones and pitcher John Henke led the Trojans to the victory. Jones, a junior, led off the third inning with a triple, with Madison ahead 2-1, and then scored the decisive run on a passed ball.

Henke, a left-handed sophomore, went all the way for the Trojans, fanning six, walking two and allowing Triad four hits.

Carl Fonville, a junior, scored the Trojan's first run in the second inning.

Trojan shortstop Jay Greer, a junior, scored in the second inning. Greer perhaps had the strongest infielder the Trojans have, is a transfer student from Augustinian of St. Louis. Augustinian will close its school doors at the end of this semester and knowing the Trojans Greer started his junior year at Madison.

Madison finished with three runs, seven hits and two errors. Triad was 2-4-2.

"We have a real young club, but they are looking good," Coach Ron Davis said. "Only one senior played against Triad. Our strength will lie in our defense."

The Trojans suffered a disaster Thursday against the Warriors. Madison saw the Warriors tag 10 runs in the first inning, 12 in the second inning and another four in the fifth. The game was ended at the end of the fifth inning due to the 10-run rule.

The game against East St. Louis scheduled for today in Madison at 4 p.m. has been canceled due to rain.

The Trojans are scheduled to play Waterloo on the Madison diamond at 4 p.m. April 7.

Karen Reisinger Beats National Marks at State

Two national and state YMCA swimming records were smashed Saturday by Karen Reisinger of Granite City, who gained first-place victories in the 200-yard individual medley and freestyle events at the Illinois YMCA Girls' Swim Championships.

Reisinger's state marks bettered by the Prather Junior High School student were times set by herself in competition last year at the YMCA state-wide contest. This spring, however, the new times established by the Granite City girl surpassed records listed at national YMCA competition.

Miss Reisinger also earned a fifth-place ribbon in the 200-yard medley relay. All events in which she competed were in the 13-14 age group.

The local girl was one of five Granite City swimmers competing under the East St. Louis YMCA colors, who won medals and ribbons in the state championship meet at George Williams College in Downers Grove.

Capturing a second place medal in the 11-12 age division was Judy Reisinger, a younger sister of Karen She earned second place in the 10-yard individual medley and a sixth-place award in the 10-yard freestyle.

A Janet Becherer, 9-10, won a third-place medal in the 100-yard freestyle and a fourth place in the 50-yard butterfly.

On Sunday, the Boys' YMCA State Championship Meet was staged at the same college pool.

Local youths winning medals were Mark W. Buegner, who earned a second-place award in the 100-yard breaststroke, 13-14 age group; and David Joly, 9-10, who captured a third-place medal in the 200-yard freestyle relay.

The only top six competitors in YMCA swim programs throughout the state competed in the meet finals.

Communities from each section of Illinois were represented by youthful swimmers who met established, qualifying times or had achieved first place victories in district meets.

Robbers to Play With Wichita

James Robbers, a 6-2, 205-pound full back, has been labeled a "comer" for the Wichita State University Shocker freshman team as the Granite City senior has signed to attend WSU next fall.

A solid student with a high "B" average, Robbers intends to major in business at WSU in addition to his football. As a fullback this past season, he gained over 4.6 yards a carry and was a three-year letterman.

"We feel James has the size and the weight to be a potentially fine athlete for the Shockers," head coach Bob Seaman said. "He has fair speed and with size, he could play a number of positions for us. He was a track man as well and is a well-conditioned athlete. We feel he'll play some for us this season."

Robbers helped his team to a 5-2 record this past season, and was instrumental in his team's 8-1 and 5-3 marks the previous two seasons. His coach, Wayne Williams, gives him his seal of approval as a "fine athlete."

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Robbers of Granite City.

Wilson Splits All-Star Meet

Doug Wilson, Granite City High School's 132-pound All-Star varsity wrestler, was among 12 Illinois high school wrestlers who competed against the Pennsylvania State All-Star wrestling squad at California State College in Pennsylvania Saturday.

The Pennsylvania squad collected eight match victories, the Illinois team had four and there was one draw during the competition.

Wilson wrestled two matches in the event due to the absence of the 132-pound Illinois state champion Brad Smith.

In his first round, Wilson met Dan Santoro of San Con Valley, Pa., the state champion, and was beaten on a reversal in the last 10 seconds. The final score was 6-4.

Race Driver Hurt Critically

Kenneth M. Holthe, 29, of St. Louis County, Mo., a pro-stock drag racing driver, was critically injured when his car went out of control and overturned during competition yesterday afternoon at St. Louis International Raceway on Route 203 south of Madison.

Witnesses said dust blowing on to the track caused the tires of Holthe's 1969 Camaro to lose their grip and the car left the track at more than 100 miles per hour.

Holthe managed to bring the car back onto the pavement but the vehicle upended onto its front, spun several times and dropped upside down, sliding along the track on the hood and roof, spectators said.

Holthe's head was caught between the roof and windshield, both of which bent around the roll bar, they reported. He was taken to F. M. Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where officials listed him in critical condition today.

Rains Pitches 2-Hit Victory

Granite City's Don Rains hurled a two-hitter as Southern Illinois University-Southern downed Springfield Hill College Friday at Mobile, Ala.

The local Cougars turned the trick again the following day by a 5-1 victory on a three-hitter by Ron Middleton over the Mobile school.

Rains, a senior right hander, struck out three batters and walked four in his effort. He had a 6-2 record last year. Coach Roy Lee's Cougars continue on their Southern tour with a doubleheader today at Arkansas State University and will host St. Mary's College in a twin-bill in a home opener Friday.

GC Pilot Wins Medal

Evacuates Six Wounded In Damaged Helicopter

Chief Warrant Officer Harry T. Neuling of Granite City, a U. S. Army helicopter pilot, has received the Vietnam Cross of Gallantry with Silver Star for repeated gallantry in action.

The citation accompanying the Gallantry Cross specifically details his successful evacuation of six seriously wounded soldiers in a damaged aircraft on Oct. 7, 1971, in the vicinity of DaNang, South Vietnam.

The Granite City pilot completed over 700 evacuation missions during his tour in Vietnam.

Earlier this year, CWO Neuling, 35, received the Distinguished Flying Cross for Heroism, the Air Medal with "V" Device for Valor and the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Bronze Star for Heroism.

All three previous decorations were conferred for heroic action involving medical evacuations of wounded troops under heavy enemy fire and in hazardous circumstances in Quang Ngai Province last April.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Neuling, Box 794N, Rural Route Two, the helicopter pilot is married to the former Miss Maureen Mathenia of Granite City.

Returned From Vietnam
CWO Neuling, a 1961 graduate of Granite City High School, returned to the United States last month from Vietnam. He has since been reassigned to Fort Ord, Calif.

In addition to the decorations mentioned, CWO Neuling holds the Purple Heart Medal; 23 awards of the Air Medal for combat missions; and the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

The citation detailing the action in which CWO Neuling was cited for the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Silver Star reads in part:

"Chief Warrant Officer Harry Neuling, United States Army, has distinguished himself through repeated gallantry while serving as a medical evacuation pilot for February through December of 1971 in the Republic of Vietnam."

"As an aircraft commander with the 88th Medical Detachment, Mister Neuling exhibited exceptional valor on 7 October, 1971, in completing the evacuation of six seriously injured soldiers of the Republic of Vietnam at coordinates Alpha Tango 0731 in Quang Tin Province."

"Disregarding personal safety and intense heavy automatic weapons fire, Mister Neuling brought six wounded men to safety despite large caliber damage to the aircraft."

"Mister Neuling has participated in over 700 medical evacuations of injured South Vietnamese and Allied free world soldiers."

The Granite City serviceman has completed two tours of duty in Vietnam.

In 1966, CWO Neuling saw action in Southeast Asia as a combat infantryman. He entered the Army in September 1963.

Kite-Flying Rules

for a Safe Spring

Any day of the year is good kite-flying weather in Illinois. But it's those first warm days of Spring when a boy just naturally wants to get outdoors and fly his kite. And who can blame him after spending so much time indoors during our winter months?

But kite flying can be dangerous. To avoid these dangers, Illinois Power suggests the following safety rules:

1. Use dry string, wood and paper in your kite — not wire or metal.
2. Fly your kite on days when there is no rain.
3. Avoid busy streets and highways while flying your kite.
4. Fly your kite away from electric power lines or radio and TV aerials.
5. Always keep away from fallen wires.
6. Call Illinois Power Company if your kite gets snagged in a power line. Do not pull the string or climb a power pole.

Con Men Out to Bilk Elderly of Bank Funds

Confidence men again are operating in the area in efforts to bank savings, according to information provided to the police by local banks.

A bank official said someone calls a resident, identifying himself as being with a bank and claiming that the bank is having computer trouble and asking for the account number and balance to check it with bank records.

A confidence man then could fill out a withdrawal slip, the banker said, though there would be little danger of completing a withdrawal as signatures are compared.

A similar procedure was attempted here a year ago, police noted.

CHEROKEE CHIEF visits Arrow meeting. Cletus Wilson, a Cherokee Indian Chief, gave a talk at a meeting of the Cahokia Lodge Order of the Arrow held in St. John's United Church of Christ. Poor Plight of Indians Told to Order of Arrow

"Thousands of Indians cannot become self-supporting because they are forced by the federal government to live in wastelands, abandoned autos and holes in the ground," Cletus Wilson, a Cherokee Indian and sub-chief of the tribe, told a meeting of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, at St. John's United Church of Christ last week.

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of honor campers within the Boy Scouts of America. The ritual of the Arrow is based on Delaware Indian tradition. Purpose of the group is to give service to others and promote Scout camping.

Wilson showed over 100 color slides taken on the various reservations in the Dakotas. The slides demonstrated the plight of most of the American Indians today.

According to Wilson not only do Indians live in deplorable conditions, but die at an early age with 80% of the deaths due to malnutrition.

"Young male Indians are encouraged to join the military so they may be granted U. S.

citizenship and have a chance to leave the reservation in order to study," Wilson said.

After Wilson's presentation, members of the Arrow voted to conduct a food and clothing drive to help the tribes in North and South Dakota.

Any group wishing more information on the plight of the Indians may contact Wilson at 411 E. O'Fallon St., Capeview, or phone 345-1824, he said.

Terry Toth, chief of the Cahokia Lodge, conducted the meeting. Chief Toth emphasized the importance of all members of the Order of the Arrow to work with their local Scout units in registrations for Camp Siuslaw within the next few weeks as the camp periods are filling rapidly.

In other business the camping board authorized an expenditure of $150 to buy materials needed to make rustic bridges over the creek leading to the nature area and the Clark cabin at Camp Sunnen near Peoria, Mo.

Success Motivation Explained to Rotary

Philip Chapman, a Granite City man who heads Chip Chapman Associates and is honorary vice-president of the Success Motivation Institute, outlined to Granite City Rotarians last week how individuals can multiply their effectiveness through positive, goal-oriented conduct.

Included by Rotarian Dale Wilkey, Chapman cited examples in which sales staffs, athletic teams and businesses have set and achieved high goals. Vice-President Richard West discussed the club's "child day" April 18 and joint participation with other clubs in an annual Maundy Thursday luncheon March 30.

Urban Aid Highway Jobs In GC Given Green Light

A series of arterial street improvements to be made with federal grants allocated under the Federal Aid Urban Highway program have been given approval by state officials which virtually assures their acceptance by federal authorities, according to Granite City Mayor Donald Partney.

The announcement followed approval by state and federal highway officials of Granite City participation in the TOPICS program which provides U. S. funds for development of safety factors in major street intersections. Five Granite City intersections will be improved under that program.

The Federal Aid Urban Highway program provides improvement of city streets that are on state highway routes on a 50-50 city-federal basis, Partney said. Detailed planning and engineering on these improvements still must be made, however. Consequently, the mayor said, he does not now have cost estimates. These must be provided by the plans yet to be prepared.

Authorize Planning
Acting on this information, the council approved a motion authorizing the mayor to employ Marilyn Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis planning and engineering agency, to develop the plans. The mayor said that planning of the projects can be financed from the overall cost of the work eventually projected, and that the city's share, like the TOPICS program, may be financed with motor fuel tax funds.

One alderman suggested that the balance in the city's motor fuel tax fund is low and that the city is committed to a $300,000 share for improvement of Maryville Road, planned by Madison County. Partney said, however, that he had been informed the county is unlikely to have its $1.5 million share of the project this year and that the Maryville Road project is not expected to get under way until 1973.

"This would allow sufficient money to finish the TOPICS and the Federal Urban Aid projects," the mayor remarked. The city's share of the Maryville Road project will come from motor fuel tax funds.

Both the TOPICS program and the Federal Urban Aid plan were developed by Mayor Partney who has insisted over the past year that council members withhold expenditure of MFT funds because extensive advantages would be available if the city were able to provide its share of the federal sponsored projects.

Medicare Insurance Deadline Set Friday

March 31 is the deadline for some people over 65 to sign up for the medical insurance part of Medicare.

William Phalen, Social Security district manager at East St. Louis, said today that some people did not enroll in this part of the Medicare program at age 65. A few who did sign up dropped the coverage later. There is a general enrollment period during the first three months of every year in which these people may sign up or re-enroll in the program.

People past 65 may apply for this coverage now if not more than three years have elapsed since they first could have enrolled or since they cancelled the coverage. The first time that anyone can sign up for Medicare is during a period starting three months before age 65 and ending three months after. Phalen said that most people enroll during this initial period.

This medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses but does not cover prescription drugs outside a hospital. The current monthly premium of $3.60 will go up to $3.80 on July 1. Those past 65 who enroll now will be covered by medical insurance effective next July.

Although this will be the last chance for some people to enroll in Medicare, Phalen emphasized that no action is necessary by those who are already signed up. Their coverage will continue. He urged anyone who wants more information to contact the Social Security Office.

SHRINERS SAY 'THANKS' Avery Schermer, president of the Tri-City Shrine Club, center, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Lily Chaboude and Ralph Astorian, officials of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children, for a $500 donation to Shriners Hospital. The society raised $1,066 in 1971, its first year on its own.

Tri-City Shriners Hear Report on Life in Russia

Popular misconceptions about life in Russia were reviewed by Bob Hardy, news director of Radio Station KMOX, who discussed a recent trip to the Soviet Union and showed a series of slides at a meeting of the Tri-City Shrine Club.

Hardy, a Shriner, was guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the local club held at the Granite City Army Installation.

Other guests were Mrs. Lily Chaboude and Ralph Astorian, president and vice-president, respectively, of the newly formed Granite City Society for Crippled Children and Roy Wilkins, past president of the Shrine Temple.

Astorian briefly addressed the group, crediting the Shriners' organization with the successful recovery of a nephew who sustained severe burns and underwent extensive treatment at Shriners Hospital. He also noted the Crippled Children's Society raised a total of $1,066 in its initial year.

Avery Schermer, Tri-City Shrine Club president, welcomed the guests and expressed appreciation to the society representatives for a $500 donation presented to the Shrine's Hospital Fund.

Toured Russia
Hardy, who toured Russia as part of an official party of state governors and newsmen, noted in an interview with Premier

He noted that in general the Russian people appear satisfied. But, he cautioned, one must remember that for every benefit given by the state, an individual right and freedom is sacrificed. It is hard to conceive of people being really all their planning for them, he added.

We tend to measure other nations by our own standards, Hardy said, pointing out that the Shriners Russian lives in greatly improved circumstances compared to past decades.

Few live in shacks, he said.

An accelerated course in Red Cross First Aid, designed to compress standard, advanced and instructor's training into a single, 16-hour training program, will be offered to representatives of area industrial firms in April.

David Fox, vice-chairman of the Tri-City American Red Cross Chapter, said today the new Multimedia first aid course is being made available here to aid area industry meet requirements under the Federal Occupational Safety and Health Act.

Two separate Multimedia first aid courses, with a limited number of enrollees in each, will be taught April 4-5 and April 6-7 at the Granite City Civil Defense Center, 1411 Nineteenth St.

Robert McCarter, safety programs representative, Bi-State Division, American National Red Cross, has been assigned to instruct the Multimedia course.

The Occupational Safety and Health Act, enacted into law on April 28, 1971, contains provisions for establishing standards, enforcements, occupational health research, and education and training covering safety and health subjects.

A section of the act requires that every firm must have at least one employee, or preferably two, who have been trained in first aid. Fox said, "Those selected by an employer to attend the Multimedia course will be eligible to instruct others in their own company, he added."

Each Multimedia course will consist of two full days of training from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with a 30-minute break for lunch. Applications will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Employers are asked to call the Red Cross office, at 432-7184, to register participants. A limit of 20 enrollees for each two-day course has been set.

No tuition fee will be charged for the course. However, each person must have a set of four work books, at a cost of $2.60. It also is recommended each student purchase the regular First Aid Textbook, costing $1. local Red Cross officials advised.

The clubs spring fashion show was discussed. It is to be held April 16 at Meridian Hall, S.W.-SW. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Loretta Krokovich and Mrs. Mary Lou Worthen.

Reports were given by all committee chairmen. It was noted that plans are proceeding well for the event, the club's main fund project for its charitable work throughout the year.

New officers were elected for the coming year, with their duties to be assumed in May: Mrs. Linda Saltich, president; Mrs. Marian Wright, first vice-president; Mrs. Phyllis Stieb, second vice-president; Mrs. Mary Lou Worthen, recording secretary; Mrs. Phyllis Grimm, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Carolyn Thornburg, treasurer.

Group Views Police Documentary

A movie, entitled "Every Day, Every Hour," concerning the daily duties of a police officer, was presented Thursday at a meeting of the Kirkpatrick Homes "Family Life" education group.

Patrolman William Harris of the Granite City Police Department and Otis Edwards, a member of the Pontoon Beach Police force, narrated the film. The officers also discussed security measures and delinquency.

The next meeting, set for 1:30 p.m. April 13, will have a program by Irving Miles of the Aid to Dependent Children's office, on drug use and its associated problems.

Nursery care is provided at the sessions and refreshments are served during a social hour. The education series is open to all residents of Kirkpatrick Homes.

The club's next visit to the Columbus sponsored home will be on April 24. April birthdays of Columbus residents will be celebrated.

The newly-elected officers will be installed, along with the current probationary members. The club will be celebrating its 40th anniversary as a charitable organization.

Mrs. Mary Lou Richardson, chairman of the club's Easter project, reported that baskets will be delivered to deserving families in Granite City April 1. She is to be assisted by Mrs. Flora Mae Lensing.

Mrs. Pohlman, chairman of the committee to plan the club's installation dinner, reported that it will be held Monday evening, April 10, at the Marriott Hotel.

The next meeting will be held April 3 at the home of Mrs. Lensing.

The club's next visit to the Columbus sponsored home will be on April 24. April birthdays of Columbus residents will be celebrated.

The Schermer Bulletin

What's new at Schermer's? Well last week we re-modeled our drug and housewares department. We have a new supplier out of Memphis and we think you will be pleased with the increased selection of merchandise which you now will find. Even an item called "oxy-lanta", whatever it is, can now be found on our drug shelves. Some 300 new items are now in the drug department alone. We hope you like it.

Heading down the home stretch, our Easter Candy Department is still in good shape, so we should be able to take care of all of your needs. We still have a good selection of the "makin's" for Easter Baskets so come on down.

Another shipment of Fresh Pork Liver came in this morning and we have the "old fashioned" price of 29c per lb. This is a real economy meal and many diets recommend a meal of liver at least once a week. Speaking of diets, our diet section is continually adding new items. If you need some special item which we are not now stocking, please let us know so that we can order it for you.

Another Meat Value in today to save you money! Fancy Beef Steer Oxtails — only 19c lb. These of you who know about oxtails, we have recipes at our meat counter.

We have had some trouble keeping all colors, and sometimes even the item itself in stock during our current "Flamenco" promotion which is now in its 6th week. If we were out of your item or your color, in the first place, please bear with us. We will take care of everything in item number four. This item in gold should be in Wednesday afternoon.

For those of you who called, let us tell you that the new Cosmopolitan Magazine sold out as soon as we received it. This magazine is supposed to be women's answer to Playboy. In our opinion, if you didn't get it, you didn't miss anything. There are no more to be had anyway, not till the next issue.

The best egg value is the one we are advertising today. EXTRA-LARGE Chef Best GRADE "A" (we sell nothing but grade "A") eggs at 3 dozen for 89c. Here's an economy in "servo" eggs instead of meat meals. Other meat substitutes for meat making to be considered are Fish, Macaroni or Spaghetti, Soups, Cheese and Potatoes. Dig out your old recipe book and start saving.

Death of a Salesman displays its multi-dimensionality with its compassionate scrutiny of the tragedy of Willy Loman and his family. Pennell explained, Tragically, according to Arthur Miller, the consequence of a man's total compulsion to evaluate himself justly.

The tragedy of Willy Loman, the playwright continued, is that he gave his life, or sold it, in order to justify the waste of it.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of JOHN MICHAEL MEZAROS, March 27, 1972. Nothing can ever take away the love a heart holds dear. Forever memories linger every day. Remembrance keeps him near.

Sadly missed by: MOTHER, FATHER and GRANDPARENTS.

In loving memory of WILLIS MCILVOY, March 27, 1972 and GRACE MCILVOY, April 19, 1967. Sadly missed by: ALL WHO LOVED THEM.

In loving memory of CARL SMITH who passed away March 27, 1971. Today recalls sad memories of a loved one who goes to rest.

Those who think of you today are the ones who loved you best. What I would give to see you smile.

Today sit with me and talk awhile. The blow was sudden. The shock was severe. To part with one I loved so dear.

I often sit and think of you. The years you used to say and do. I wonder why you had to die. Without a chance to say goodbye.

MOM, DAD & EDDIE

In loving memory of GLORIA JEAN (BOLT) RILL and son, JERRY RILL, March 25, 1971. One year has passed since you went away.

The flowers we place upon your grave may wither and decay. But the love for you will always remain deep within our hearts.

Sadly missed by: THE FAMILY.

In memory of ROLAND "KOLLY" WERTHS who died March 27, 1969. Sadly missed by: WIFE AND FAMILY.

In loving memory of LOUIS SAMUEL KISMER March 28, 1963. There is someone who misses you sadly.

And finds the time long since you went. There is someone who thinks of you always.

And tries to be brave and content. Gone is the face we loved so dear. Silent the voice we loved to hear.

"The said, but true, we wonder why. The best are always the first to die."

Sadly missed by: FAMILY AND FRIENDS.

In loving memory of ROGER HOTSON, March 29, 1971. We do not forget him, we love him too dearly.

For his memory to fade from our lives like a dream. Our lips need not speak when our hearts mourn sincerely.

For grief often dwells where it seldom is seen. Sadness is missed by: WIFE AND CHILDREN.

In loving memory of FRANK ROZYCKE SR., March 26, 1971. One year has passed since you went away.

The flowers we place upon your grave may wither and decay. But love for you who sleeps beneath. Will never fade away.

Sadly missed by: WIFE AND FAMILY.

Miss Cary Leuellen, Gary Embick Are Wed

Lighted tapers illuminated the sanctuary of Emmanuel Church of the Nazarene in Belleville for the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Cary Leuellen, 2921 South Belt West, Belleville and Gary Embick of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City.

The 6 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Milton Marsh assisted by the Rev. James Spruce.

Parents of the couple are Mr.

and Mrs. Orson Leuellen of Missouri, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Embick of Route 7, Box 174, Edwardsville, former Granite City residents.

For her wedding, the former Miss Leuellen chose a pure white organza gown fashioned with an Empire bodice, featuring bands of floral Venice lace motifs accented with satin brocade. Matching lace edged the high neckline and extended along the sleeves to cuff the wrist.

A panel of Venice lace detailed the front of the long A-line skirt and lace motifs were repeated on the edge of the full sweep detachable train that fell gracefully from a self-trimmed bow.

A profile of organza and lace motifs, embellished with crystals and pearls, secured a tiered collar of brocade illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations, stephanotis and baby breath.

Mrs. Charles Waterburg, matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Sue Marsh, Miss Kay Embick and Miss Rebecca Embick, the latter two both sisters of the groom, were dressed alike in hot pink gowns designed with an Empire waist.

A bolero in spring green, trimmed with narrow floral braid, complemented their ensembles.

They carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers. Russell Borth, a cousin of the groom, served as best man, Dick Leuellen, the bride's brother, Greg Embick, a brother of the groom, Terry Barron, Jerry Doyle and Lavern Reed, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held at St. Matthew's Methodist Church, Belleville, immediately following the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, the newlyweds will make their home in Belleville. The former Miss Leuellen is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College. She presently is teaching at Chaffard Grade School. Mr. Embick was graduated from Granite City High School and from Olivet Nazarene College. He is a member of the East St. Louis High School faculty.

Levee Board Eliminating Spending Which Provides Little or No Service to Public

Having personally testified, in vain, to urge obviously-needed reforms in East Side Levee and Sanitary District policies and practices, we are acutely aware of how difficult it has been to secure increased economy and efficiency in the levee system.

This recollection provides added appreciation for the action taken March 22 by two of the three current members of the Levee Board, President William M. Ebersold and Vice President James Pirtle of East St. Louis.

To reduce the spending level, they dismissed 19 employees, lowered six others in rank and abolished the district's police department.

One of the things that has bothered Levee District taxpayers for many more years than they can remember is—not just the vast number of dollars spent—but the awareness that many of those dollars were used primarily to build up various individuals' and groups' political power rather than to render flood protection and drainage service.

This point was brought into the spotlight by an exchange of comments at last week's board meeting. A pump station workman who had been discharged the previous week complained of unfairness; he noted that supervisors reported he was absent for many days of work.

"I came every morning and left two hours later, just like everyone else did," the pump station worker related. "It seems if I am fired for that, you should fire everyone else that did that and the supervisors who allowed it." President Ebersold replied that he was doing just that, and proceeded with a series of motions reducing the levee district staff.

Ebersold and Pirtle also are right in reviewing the supposed need for so many well-paid levee attorneys.

It was the amount of such legal work which was a factor in the 1970 canvass for trustees on charges of misconduct in office. This was reversed by the Appellate Court, but the point remains that large and frequent legal fees ought to be avoided, regardless of whether some lawyers claim that they lack potent political punch.

It is also "good politics" to please the taxpayer and voting public. Fortunately, two of the three current members seem intent on eliminating the "fat" in East Side Levee and Sanitary District expenditures.

Action by Missouri Senate Needed to Help Keep St. Louis Area Bus System Operating

Comment by St. Louis Globe-Democrat—Certain members of the Missouri Senate Appropriations Committee were opposed to even considering the $1.9 million emergency appropriation required to keep Bi-State Transit from going bankrupt.

They apparently thought they could save the state money by refusing to approve the measure. The House has approved a $1,264,000 emergency aid bill for Bi-State.

Sen. Robert Penland of St. Louis persuaded the committee to hear Edward Delmore, chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency, outline the bus company's plight.

Delmore told the committee: "Sometime in the early summer we will be out of money. It's that simple. Either we receive some money or we go out of business."

If Bi-State should go bankrupt, the state would perhaps have to buy most of its $25 million worth of equipment and other assets to keep the St. Louis Metropolitan area only from mass transportation going. Where else could the money come from? The city's fiscal cupboard is bare.

This could happen if the Senate turns its back on Bi-State.

Which brings us back to the question of saving money for the state. However good a bargain for the state of Missouri would it be to save $1.9 million and, as a consequence, lose more than $25 million? And at the same time inherit the heavy liability of operating a public transportation service?

The Senate Appropriations Committee and the Senate as a whole should follow the lead of the House and approve urgently needed funds for Bi-State. There seems no other way to keep Bi-State buses rolling.

Building Plans by Madison County Federal

The $1 million multi-story office building to be erected on Namekoi Road by the Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association is one of the finest assets to the neighborhood and community. Detailed planning will proceed following the March 20 City Council action.

As one of the Madison County Federal institutions, Madison County Federal understandably has considered establishing its own building despite the present fine facilities in the Bellemore Village Shopping Center. The new location is a major factor from the Bellemore site, and the association hopes to complete the move in 1973, its 50th anniversary year.

Justice, conducted by the National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice—a branch of LEAA.

"An important focus of the Institute's research is on projects with practical application to enable criminal justice agencies to cope with their day-to-day problems," Velde commented.

An indication of the tangible benefits of one research project was dramatically demonstrated this month, he said, in the attempted bombing of a TWA plane.

The California-bound plane returned to Kennedy Airport, New York after a bomb threat by an anonymous caller was made to airline officials.

In a fortuitous coincidence, Velde said, two specially-trained dogs were waiting at the airport to demonstrate their ability to sniff out explosives and narcotics.

The dogs were trained by the University of Mississippi's Department of Psychology.

Another LEAA grant, awarded by the U. S. Army Land Warfare Laboratory at Aberdeen, Md., which had received a $20,000 LEAA grant.

During the first three months of the project—October-December 1971—the rate of robbery dropped 4.5% compared with the same period for 1970. The clearance rate—robberies solved—jumped from 33.9% to 32.3%.

Programs to improve police operations have received major emphasis under the LEAA program, Velde noted, but courts and corrections have not been neglected.

Projects carried out with LEAA assistance cover the entire range of criminal justice needs," he said.

Among the examples cited were: rehabilitation of prisoners, jail renovation, court management improvements, public defender programs, organized crime control and juvenile delinquency prevention and control.

LEAA has launched the first research and development program for criminal justice. The program is designed to develop new techniques for solving a down-to-earth law enforcement problem—how to get speedy, accurate transmission and identification of fingerprints.

North Carolina fingerprints data is "transmitted between police departments and identification bureaus by means of a process that can take up to a week if the agencies are widely separated."

In a new 10-day test financed by LEAA, fingerprints and mugshots were relayed from California to Florida for the first time via a National Aeronautics and Space Administration satellite.

"Using the satellite," Velde said, "fingerprints and mugshots were transmitted and received in just minutes. Equally as important, the transmission of mugshots produced high quality images, which are essential for accurate identification and classification of fingerprints."

"The experiment was conducted by Project Researcher, a 20-state consortium which develops and tests prototype information and communications systems, under a $100,000 LEAA grant."

A report on the experiment's findings will be published by late spring and will include information on the cost and feasibility of creating a permanent nationwide fingerprint transmission network using satellites.

The success of this research effort is whether the recommendations developed are implemented, Velde noted.

LEAA-funded research conducted in New York City developed and tested the concept of "defensible space"—whether the physical design of buildings and areas can be used to deter crime.

Recommendations from these studies have been implemented in 14 housing projects in the city. In the past five months, crime in these projects has been reduced 14%.

LEAA also has sponsored research in the technology of fingerprint identification.

Another LEAA research project applied space technology to solving a down-to-earth law enforcement problem—how to get speedy, accurate

Pressure on Dollar Continues; Many 'Feed' Inflation

Copley News Service

The 1971 "dollar crisis" was relieved last December when the United States agreed to a devaluation of its currency.

Now, with legislation raising the official price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce just emerging from Congress, a new wave of pressure on the dollar abroad is prompting suggestions that the $35 devaluation is not enough.

Devaluing the dollar was a symbolic gesture in the first place, however.

The United States is still not exchanging gold for dollars, at any price.

The continued gold of dollars on European money markets is ample evidence that gestures alone are not enough to solve currency problems.

The dollar's new downward slide may well stem from fears abroad that there is too large a gap between what Americans say they are going to do about their economic problems, and what is actually happening in the United States.

It is obvious to anyone that real progress toward controlling inflation will result from more responsible fiscal policies by the government, and from broad and meaningful restraint on wage and price increases.

If foreign observers are skeptical that we are truly dedicated to this course, they have reason to be.

Government economists are building another big deficit into the federal budget, accepting the inflationary risk this entails in exchange for its promise of economic "pump-priming" to reduce unemployment.

The Cost of Living Council, meanwhile, is faced with charges that wage and price restraints are failing to put an effective brake on many essential items in the consumer's budget.

President Nixon based his Phase II program on "voluntary" restraints in the belief that American people are wise enough to see the folly of continued inflation.

The pattern of major labor settlements in recent months and the performance of the Pay Board to date unite to raise some doubts as to whether that faith was justified.

Foreign money markets are remote from Main Street, U.S.A., but close enough for the "gnomes of Zurich" to see that many Americans are still refusing to take the medicine that a case of inflationary fever demands.

Whether realistic price policies can be maintained as long as the pay board continues to compromise the goals of the Phase II program is another question.

The pay board has bowed to what it calls "special conditions" to approve wage increases exceeding its own 5.5% guidelines in key industries—construction, steel, coal and the railroads among them. Next, it was under labor pressure to yield on the new contract for West Coast longshoremen.

State Status Water Quality Standards Set

By JOAN MURARO

Copley News Service

Springfield—The final stage of Illinois' water quality standards has been adopted by the state's Pollution Control Board.

Linked to effluent standards which were adopted in January, the new controls now give the state, in a single document, what the PCB has called "a consistent and coherent set of regulations relating to water quality criteria, stream-use designations, maximum discharge limits, all waters capable of supporting aquatic life should be protected to insure their ability to do so (except streams in the Chicago area); public water supply sources should be preserved; and all other provisions necessary for the protection of the state's waters."

The standards were adopted after 10 months of public hearings and debate, during which some initial standards and dates were modified.

Basically, the standards are based on the principles that all waters should be protected, against both nuisances and health hazards; all waters capable of supporting aquatic life should be protected to insure their ability to do so (except streams in the Chicago area); public water supply sources should be preserved; and all other provisions necessary for the protection of the state's waters."

As announced by the PCB, the new regulations advance from Dec. 31, 1977, to Dec. 31, 1978, the effective deadline for most communities to have facilities to control pollution from combined sewer overflows, of pollution problems in the state.

Another deadline, previously set at July 1, 1977, for sewage treatment beyond secondary treatment, was set back to December 1978, as a result of changes in applicable laws.

Asserting that many Illinois communities have been doing nothing at all, about meeting the earlier deadline, the board noted that "slippage in this program is a cause for grave concern and it must not be permitted to happen again."

The board also noted that because we have set new requirements, not because local officials have chosen to discontinue similar slippage under the revised program," the board said, adding that substantial money penalties as well as bans on additional sewer connections are a "distinct possibility" for municipalities which fail to make "diligent efforts" to meet the new deadlines.

The new standards also provide:—Sewage and similar wastes discharged into Lake Michigan must receive the highest degree of treatment.

—Additional waters, including the remaining portion of the Illinois River, designated for protection of aquatic life and for bodily contact.

—A requirement that additional communities go beyond traditional secondary treatment.

—More stringent dissolving requirements to better protect aquatic life.

—Limited relief from the highest degree of tertiary treatment, provided for communities which can prove that a more economical means of tertiary treatment is sufficient to assure satisfactory water quality.

—Year-round disinfection of sewage treatment plant effluents.

—A comprehensive permit requirement program to cover both new and existing sources.

—Both the size and location of the community will determine if it must "go beyond traditional, or secondary treatment," according to a spokesman for the water pollution control division of the state Environmental Protection Agency.

—Traditional secondary treatment has meant removal of 90% of certain contaminants. Newer standards in some cases will call for removal of 95% of specified pollutants.

Bomb-Detecting Dogs Give Dramatic Example of Law Enforcement Gains

Federal crime-fighting funds are at work in every state supporting thousands of projects to improve the nation's criminal justice system, an official of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration told me and others this month in Washington, D. C.

Richard W. Velde, LEAA associate administrator, in remarks before the 11th annual Government Affairs Conference of the National Newspaper Association, cited a number of projects as examples of "the immense contribution of LEAA to reducing crime."

Among them are projects credited with reducing street crime in two major cities, detection of hidden bombs by specially-trained dogs, a new method to speed fingerprint transmission between law enforcement agencies, development of architectural design principles to improve safety, and testing of videotapes as a means of identification in criminal cases.

Velde said LEAA will have awarded $1.5 billion by the end of the current fiscal year to help police, courts and corrections agencies throughout the country.

"This infusion of funds is beginning to have tangible results. Crime has not yet been stopped, but the spiraling rate of increase is winding down," he said.

"During the first nine months of 1971, crime rose 6%—the lowest increase for any comparable period in the last five years."

Washington itself—one of the most crime-plagued cities in the nation—has recorded a dramatic drop in its crime rate, he added.

In 1971, crime in the District of Columbia dropped 18%—the first decrease since 1966 when the city began keeping records.

In January 1972, monthly crimes were the lowest in five years.

In D. C. Police Chief Jerry Wilson said LEAA-funded programs to improve police and curb narcotics addiction are contributing to the crime reduction," Velde related.

In Miami, Fla., an LEAA-funded police robbery control project has had an effect on decreasing offenses and increasing arrests.

During the first three months of the project—October-December 1971—the rate of robbery dropped 4.5% compared with the same period for 1970. The clearance rate—robberies solved—jumped from 33.9% to 32.3%.

Programs to improve police operations have received major emphasis under the LEAA program, Velde noted, but courts and corrections have not been neglected.

Projects carried out with LEAA assistance cover the entire range of criminal justice needs," he said.

Among the examples cited were: rehabilitation of prisoners, jail renovation, court management improvements, public defender programs, organized crime control and juvenile delinquency prevention and control.

LEAA has launched the first research and development program for criminal

'LEGALIZE MARIJUANA' SIGNS AT MUSKIE TALK

To the Editor:

On a radio station in St. Louis every evening at nine, ten and eleven, the announcer says, "Do you know where your children are?"

Parents, let me ask you: Did you know where your children were last Monday evening at four o'clock?

Well, I will tell you where a large number of them were. They were out at the Bellemore Shopping Center trying to see and hear Senator Muskie.

So I am trying to make this is out of that large number of young people were about four-teenage boys and one teenage boy with a large home-made sign bearing the words, "Legalize Marijuana."

They were making around trying to attract everyone's attention.

Parents, let me ask you this question—how would you feel if you saw your son's or daughter's picture in the paper with a sign like the above?

WOULD BE RESIDENTIAL AREA CAUSE POLLUTION?

To the Editor:

Could pollution result if a land trust developed 500-acre trailer court in bottomlands of Interstate 270 and Route 111 in Granite City School District?

In 1969, a corporation had nearly 35,000 test identifications to determine the validity of fingerprints as a means of identification.

Following the conclusion of the study, Michigan State Police began employing videotapes as legal evidence, and some courts have ruled favorably on the admission of videotapes as evidence.

"In fact," Velde told us, "the LEAA grants have testified to the success of this research effort is whether the recommendations developed are implemented, Velde noted."

LEAA-funded research conducted in New York City developed and tested the concept of "defensible space"—whether the physical design of buildings and areas can be used to deter crime.

Recommendations from these studies have been implemented in 14 housing projects in the city. In the past five months, crime in these projects has been reduced 14%.

LEAA also has sponsored research in the technology of fingerprint identification.

Another LEAA research project applied space technology to solving a down-to-earth law enforcement problem—how to get speedy, accurate transmission and identification of fingerprints.

North Carolina fingerprints data is "transmitted between police departments and identification bureaus by means of a process that can take up to a week if the agencies are widely separated."

In a new 10-day test financed by LEAA, fingerprints and mugshots were relayed from California to Florida for the first time via a National Aeronautics and Space Administration satellite.

"Using the satellite," Velde said, "fingerprints and mugshots were transmitted and received in just minutes. Equally as important, the transmission of mugshots produced high quality images, which are essential for accurate identification and classification of fingerprints."

"The experiment was conducted by Project Researcher, a 20-state consortium which develops and tests prototype information and communications systems, under a $100,000 LEAA grant."

A report on the experiment's findings will be published by late spring and will include information on the cost and feasibility of creating a permanent nationwide fingerprint transmission network using satellites.

The success of this research effort is whether the recommendations developed are implemented, Velde noted.

Nun Demands Apology by Pontoon Village Board

A letter from Sister Mary Cornelia Hawkins, former Pontoon Beach juvenile officer and police dispatcher, demanding a public apology by the village trustees and Chief of Police Harold Denham for accusations leading to her suspension, was presented to the Pontoon Beach village board in its regular meeting Thursday night.

The letter informed the board that if a public apology is made, she will ask for a private hearing (by the Police Committee) concerning the charges.

"If this request is not granted and this case calls for further action, I intend to ask for a public hearing and a large auditorium to hold it in," the letter said.

Embarrassed Family
Sister Cornelia said that the charges against her have caused her parents and family to suffer insults and embarrassment and her community, the Sisters of Divine Providence, to be the target of insults and derogatory insinuations.

The board suspended Sister Cornelia after a grand jury investigation into village affairs, charging her with violating police department regulations by taking complaints to a public meeting before airing them with her superiors in the police department.

Attended Meeting
She attended a meeting at the home of Roger Elbe, Wood River Township supervisor, at which numerous complaints were aired by village residents. The state's attorney's office began a probe into village activities shortly after the meeting. The grand jury investigation followed.

Denies Charges
Sister Cornelia denied any wrongdoing. "I did not contact any city or county official as was insinuated. As a matter of fact, I had taken several of the citizens' complaints to the police only to be told: 'Don't pay any attention to them; wait until they make a formal report and sign it if I saw something wrong,' and 'You are with the (police) department, wait until a private citizen says something.'"

"Therefore, when I was asked to attend a meeting and listen to the people (which by law I am permitted to do), I accepted the invitation," the sister said.

The letter was presented to the board by Otto Kreher, board president, but was not read. The trustees voted to refer it to the Police Committee for study and a recommendation.

Loren Madison, chairman of the Police Committee, said he would call a special committee meeting this week to discuss the letter.
